

WAYS TO GIVE to the Building for the Future Campaign:

Gifts Build the Future:

Your gift to the “Building for the Future” Campaign of the Resource Center for Nonviolence will help sustain nonviolent social change for decades to come:

- 1. Donate Funds. Your donation of any amount is tax deductible. The Resource Center is a Program of the Eschaton Foundation, a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization.
- 2. Pledge. The Building for the Future Campaign can arrange gifts scheduled into the future. A signed pledge card will be requested.
- 3. Designated Gift through the Community Foundation of Santa Cruz County. The Resource Center is fully capable of receiving gifts directly. Some donors who have funds with or are familiar with the Community Foundation may prefer to direct their gift through the Community Foundation.
- 4. Matching Gift from employer. Some employers donate matching amounts to any charity the employee chooses.
- 5. Planned Gifts including sustaining gifts of real estate, wills or bequests.
- 6. Stocks and bonds. The Resource Center can receive stocks, bonds, and similar assets.
- 7. Gifts in memory of a loved one or friend
- 8. In-Kind Donations. Building the new Resource Center includes construction services and materials, technology, and furnishings that may be donated, in part or in whole, according to the specifications of the architect and building team.

Gift Recognition and Naming Opportunities:

Capital donations of $1,000 or more will be recognized in a permanent location in the building.

Opportunities to name rooms or elements of the building project, either in your own name or in honor of someone else, are available. Please see the Naming Opportunities page for more details.

Other Ways to Contribute

- Introductions. Introduce the Resource Center for Nonviolence Building for the Future Campaign to people you know who share interest in building nonviolence for the future. The Campaign staff can host meetings in a place that works for you and your contacts.
- Volunteer. Contribute time to help with Building for the Future campaign events and administration.
- Practice Nonviolence.
